The sociology major consists of at least 33 credit hours. You must take at least one lower division (1000 or 2000 level) sociology course and at least 24 credit hours of upper division (3000 and 4000 level) courses in sociology. Some 3000 and 4000 level sociology courses have prerequisites. At least 27 hours of the 33 hours required for the Sociology major must be completed in residence at Trinity University. SOCI 2335, SOCI 3359, and SOCI 3460 or SOCI 3461 or SOCI 3365 must be completed in residence at Trinity University. (i.e., you can apply to your major a maximum of 5 credit hours of sociology coursework taken at other colleges, universities, or study abroad programs).

There are two sociology courses that all sociology majors must take. These are SOCI 2335 The Sociological Imagination, ideally taken in the spring semester of the sophomore year, and SOCI 3359 Social Research Design, ideally taken in the fall of the junior year. INTERNSHIP
Sociology majors are encouraged to complete an internship in sociology in their senior year. Students may receive academic credit for their internship by enrolling in SOCI 3-71 for one, two, or three hours, graded on a pass/fail basis. These hours may be applied to the 33 hours required for the major. Additional information about internships may be found on the department's website. Consult with your adviser and/or other professors in the department regarding San Antonio organizations that accept sociology interns.

STUDY ABROAD
Study abroad can be an especially rewarding learning experience for sociology majors. The department encourages majors to enroll in an accredited study abroad program in their junior or senior year. Be aware that you have to plan a study abroad experience several semesters in advance. To begin the planning process, contact the study abroad office by sending an email to studyabroad@trinity.edu or calling 210-999-7313 to set up an appointment to speak with a study abroad counselor. Study abroad may be completed during the regular semester or a summer session.

INDEPENDENT STUDY
Students who have a special interest in a sociological topic not covered in an existing course may engage in individual study of that topic under the supervision of a member of the Trinity sociology faculty. In order to earn academic credit for an independent study, students must find a member of the sociology faculty who is willing to supervise and evaluate their work while enrolled in SOCI 3-90 Independent Study.

SENIOR THESIS
Advanced students may write a written thesis on a sociological topic of their choice in the last semester of their senior year under the supervision of a sociology faculty member. In conjunction with the faculty member who has agreed to supervise the work, students present a thesis proposal for approval by the department faculty in the semester prior to registering for SOCI 4395 Senior Thesis.
