Student Involvement suggests that certain pieces of information be included in a student organization’s constitution. Standard information is outlined in this document as suggestions and may be altered to fit the needs of the organization. Additional information may be included in an organization’s document as needed. An organization’s constitution is the foundation of the organization and articulates the purpose and function of the organization, detailing procedures for its orderly function. Bylaws are adopted for operational changes but do not affect the purpose or function of the organization. At the completion of officer elections and during transition of officers, outgoing and incoming officers should meet together with the intent of reviewing the constitution and bylaws to determine if the purpose of the organization is being fulfilled.

*The non-discrimination policy statement in Article III, Section 1 is required. The risk management statement of Article VII is required.

*All italicized text is pertinent information or suggestions made by Student Involvement.
