Testimonials: Witnessing the Struggle for Tejano Inclusion in the Writings of Seguín, Menchaca, and Navarro

Frank de la Teja is the Supple Professor of Southwestern Studies and Regents’ Professor of History as well as Director of the Center for the Study of the Southwest at Texas State. Widely recognized for his contributions to Texas history, he holds a Ph.D. in Latin American History from the University of Texas at Austin. De la Teja has published extensively on Spanish, Mexican, and Republic-era Texas.

Discourse, Identity and Context: Liberating the Tejano Experience from its Historiographic Rigidity

Art Martinez de Vara graduated from St. Mary’s University Law School and holds Master of Arts degrees in History and Theology. An award winning historian, Martinez de Vara’s writings focus on early Tejano history and José Francisco Ruiz. Martinez de Vara is an Adjunct Professor at Our Lady of the Lake University teaching business law in its Graduate School of Business and Leadership.

Latino Americans: 500 Years of History, a public programming initiative produced by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and the American Library Association (ALA), is part of an NEH initiative, The Common Good: The Humanities in the Public Square.
